Highland Print Studio

Highland Print Studio is an open access artists studio based in Inverness. The Studio works with individuals, schools and community groups throughout the Highlands and Islands.

The Studio has facilities for printmaking and digital imaging and is accessed by people ranging from complete beginners to professional artists.

The Studio runs an annual programme of classes that enable beginners to learn new techniques and then carry on accessing the Studio to continue creating their own artwork.

A variety of classes are offered throughout the year. Further information can be found on our website or via this link - classes.
